Career Prep for English or Communications Jobs in 2005-06

Interested in P.R., Advertising, Publishing, Magazines,
Grant Writing, Teaching, Tech Writing?

- Research desirable jobs at Career Library so you have a good grasp of what's "out there."
- Use books such as 100 Jobs in Words, Career Opportunities for Writers, Career in Communications and Entertainment to come up with specific information about entry level job titles and the associated job functions.
- Knowledge of a field can sometimes make up for lack of experience!
- Assess your skill set to determine which skills you possess that will equip you for the job you want.
- Make a list of buzz words related to your field and make sure that they appear on your resume.
- Plan to acquire needed skills and experience by volunteering, interning, campus organization participation. (Campus newspaper, literary magazine, sorority newsletter)
- Prepare a well organ-
- Create a web page that contains your resume and samples of your work and your resume.
- Submit freelance articles to your favorite web site or magazine.
- Make a list of all the organizations for which you would like to work in our preferred geographic area. Research their web sites for internships and jobs.
- Design a "networking" card listing skills.
- Meet with Career Advisor, Marianne Green
