Chat to Everyone | I have made the font large so it will show up on a slide!

[22:16:49] AS says: This is the text chat area.

Welcome to the Red River Basin Disaster Information Network TeamWave Workplace demo and test. This area is currently under construction, and we will have our test run November 5, ~~10:20~~ 10:30 AM Central Time.

In the meantime, feel free to look around and experiment. What you will be able to do will vary from room to room, depending on the permissions that were set up for you.

1. Conference Room for meetings
2. Data/Mapping Focus Group
3. Network Growth Focus Group
4. Workshop Room for monthly online sessions
5. News Room for events and items of interest
6. Help Desk to provide assistance

File Viewer

This is a sample text file. I created it in Notepad but you could create it in Word for example, and then just save it as Text Only.

The file viewer does not wrap, so you need to save your text file with line breaks, so that it will display properly.

One of the potential uses for this is you can save your chat as a log, or transcript of a meeting and then post it using the file viewer for anyone who missed it, or for future reference.

Chat is easily saved by anyone using the disk button to the right of the chat input area.

This is a little closer look at the message board which works like a BBS. You could set up a different boards for subcommittees for example, and then only give members of the subcommittee permission to post.

Connected.
