

BACH'S LUNCH SERIES

Fall Semester

JEFFERSON MUSIC GALLERY
BAYARD SHARP HALL, NEWARK
WEDNESDAYS, 12:10-12:50 P.M.

6 October

THE 2004 ELECTION

Joseph Pika, Professor of Political Science and International Relations, shares his view of the upcoming election for President of the United States as well as important congressional races.

13 October

THE MAKING OF A MUSIC VIDEO

Composer Jennifer Barker, Associate Professor of Music, and Cameraman John Palmer will discuss the challenges and rewards of creating classical music videos. Their joint CD/DVD project, Geenyoch, is due for release in early 2005.

20 October

WELCOME UD'S NEW CELLIST

Larry Stomberg, newly arrived Assistant Professor of Music, will play music for cello, including Bach's Suite in D Minor.

27 October

A DYNAMIC DUO!

The Department of Music's Julie Nishimura, Accompanist-Coach, and David Herman, Trustees Distinguished Professor, will perform a variety of works for piano and organ.

3 November

BAROQUE FLUTE AND HARPSICORD

Assistant Prof. Eileen Grycky and Karen Flint present a sampling of music from the Brandywine Baroque Ensemble's current season. Ms. Grycky performs on an 18th-Century wooden flute with the Brandywine Baroque, and Ms. Flint is the harpsichordist and Artistic Director of the ensemble.

10 November

THE STUDY OF HAZARDS AND DISASTERS

Prof. Havidan Rodriguez, Director of the Disaster Research Center at UD, will discuss the role, research and contributions of the center in our understanding of societal preparedness and response to disasters.

17 November

FLUTE MUSIC FROM ACROSS THE POND

Outstanding University of Delaware flute students play some of the amazing solo flute repertoire by composers from far, far away!

1 December

TBA

8 December

CAROLS FOR THE UNIVERSITY

Music for the season featuring the Jefferson Pipe Organ, instruments and voices. This traditional program, which includes carol singing by the audience, will be repeated at 5:15 p.m.

Bayard Sharp Hall is located at the corner of West Delaware Avenue and Elkton Road in Newark

Free and open to the public