

Professor Gaiter taught a course titled “Art and Design in Cuban Life”.

“Afro-Cuban culture, as well as Spanish culture, is evident in visual representations of Santería and Abakuá icons, gods and figures. Cubans keep their history and culture alive through the arts.”

Students read fundamental texts about the slave trade in Cuba and the revolution, and viewed art in local museums and throughout the city of Havana. “The students were surrounded with beauty, natural and created. All this was juxtaposed against extreme poverty and near-ruin,” said Gaiter. “We definitely experienced the aesthetics of extremes.”

Students documented their time in Cuba through visual journals where they wrote about their experiences, as well as mounted art they were given or found. Gaiter hopes to display students’ artwork as well as their photographs during an exhibition to be announced later this semester.

Students returned to campus with gained understanding of the many facets of Cuban life, as well as with greater insight into their own lives.

“It changed many students’ views of their place in the world, and of what we have living in the United States compared to people in other parts of the world. It changed their views about the role of money in a happy life -- the vast majority of Cubans are incredibly poor, but in fact have very rich cultural lives,” said Braham.

Sun	Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat
EXC = Course related excursion HMP = Hotel Meal Plan/Hotel Plaza breakfast and dinner Museum/attraction admissions included unless noted. Evening cultural activities require ticket and entrance fees and individual payment for food and beverages. Films will be shown in the hotel in evenings. Bus in blue. Be				1 Departure PHL - MIAMI 1:30pm – arrive at airport (USAirways terminal B) Please text Persephone at 215 806 2972 upon arrival. We will check bags until 2pm then proceed to security. Please meet at the gate by 2:45pm. We will board around 3pm. Information for USAirways at Phila International Airport	2 Connection MIAMI-HAVANA Transport to hotel by bus Dinner in a paladar (restaurant in a home) walking distance to hotel	3 EXC - Orientation No bus /guide 4 hrs MORNING: Workshop on taking better photographs Habana Vieja (Old Havana) El Morro Castle, (We will have to pay for transportation) el Malecón (Caribbean promenade)

Professor Gaiter taught a course titled “Art and Design in Cuban Life”.

“Afro-Cuban culture, as well as Spanish culture, is evident in visual representations of Santería and Abakuá icons, gods and figures. Cubans keep their history and culture alive through the arts.”

Students read fundamental texts about the slave trade in Cuba and the revolution, and viewed art in local museums and throughout the city of Havana. “The students were surrounded with beauty, natural and created. All this was juxtaposed against extreme poverty and near-ruin,” said Gaiter. “We definitely experienced the aesthetics of extremes.”

Students documented their time in Cuba through visual journals where they wrote about their experiences, as well as mounted art they were given or found. Gaiter hopes to display students’ artwork as well as their photographs during an exhibition to be announced later this semester.

Students returned to campus with gained understanding of the many facets of Cuban life, as well as with greater insight into their own lives.

“It changed many students’ views of their place in the world, and of what we have living in the United States compared to people in other parts of the world. It changed their views about the role of money in a happy life -- the vast majority of Cubans are incredibly poor, but in fact have very rich cultural lives,” said Braham.

prepared to walk otherwise.				3:35pm-6:25pm: USAirways Flight 711 from Philadelphia Airport to Miami		Museum of the City of Havana HMP
4 EXC - HAVANA/ VEDADO Bus/guide 4 hrs - Paseo del Prado art fair	5 Classroom 10am-12pm ART367 No bus - guide 4 hours	6 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367 No bus - guide 4 hours	7 EXC – Habana Vieja 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367 No bus - guide 4 hours Casa de África / Catedral	8 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367 No guide No bus	9 EXC - MATANZAS ART367 LAIS/ FLL367 Tour bus	10 EXC - VARADERO LAIS/FLL367 Bus and guide

Professor Gaiter taught a course titled “Art and Design in Cuban Life”.

“Afro-Cuban culture, as well as Spanish culture, is evident in visual representations of Santería and Abakuá icons, gods and figures. Cubans keep their history and culture alive through the arts.”

Students read fundamental texts about the slave trade in Cuba and the revolution, and viewed art in local museums and throughout the city of Havana. “The students were surrounded with beauty, natural and created. All this was juxtaposed against extreme poverty and near-ruin,” said Gaiter. “We definitely experienced the aesthetics of extremes.”

Students documented their time in Cuba through visual journals where they wrote about their experiences, as well as mounted art they were given or found. Gaiter hopes to display students’ artwork as well as their photographs during an exhibition to be announced later this semester.

Students returned to campus with gained understanding of the many facets of Cuban life, as well as with greater insight into their own lives.

“It changed many students’ views of their place in the world, and of what we have living in the United States compared to people in other parts of the world. It changed their views about the role of money in a happy life -- the vast majority of Cubans are incredibly poor, but in fact have very rich cultural lives,” said Braham.

- Plaza de la Revolución - Callejón de Hamel (Hamel Alley-art and rumba music) HMP / film	2-4pm LAIS/FLL367 EXC – Habana Vieja Museo de la Revolución 4-6 Other sites Habana Vieja HMP	2-6pm ART367 EXC - Habana Vieja Museo de Bellas Artes and Contemporary Arts (Traditional and contemporary art museums) HMP / film	2-6pm ART367 EXC - Galería Víctor Manuel Centro Wilfredo Lam Estudio de Artes Gráficas (printmaking studio) - ISDi (Instituto Superior de Diseño) (Design School) HMP	2-6pm:ART367 EXC Habana Vieja - Taller Rene Portocarrero Habana Vieja (printmaking) - Fototeca de Cuba EXC - LAIS/FLL367 Evening excursion for music and dancing HMP	- Editorial Vigía (bookmaking studio) - Escuela de Artes Plásticas (art school) - Museo Farmacéutico de Matanzas (Pharmacy Museum) Bus and guide to go to Varadero All inclusive hotel Varadero	Coastal area activities: cave exploration Casa del Ron (House of Rum) Varahicacos Ecological Reserve Return to Havana / HMP
--	--	--	--	---	--	---

Professor Gaiter taught a course titled “Art and Design in Cuban Life”.

“Afro-Cuban culture, as well as Spanish culture, is evident in visual representations of Santería and Abakuá icons, gods and figures. Cubans keep their history and culture alive through the arts.”

Students read fundamental texts about the slave trade in Cuba and the revolution, and viewed art in local museums and throughout the city of Havana. “The students were surrounded with beauty, natural and created. All this was juxtaposed against extreme poverty and near-ruin,” said Gaiter. “We definitely experienced the aesthetics of extremes.”

Students documented their time in Cuba through visual journals where they wrote about their experiences, as well as mounted art they were given or found. Gaiter hopes to display students’ artwork as well as their photographs during an exhibition to be announced later this semester.

Students returned to campus with gained understanding of the many facets of Cuban life, as well as with greater insight into their own lives.

“It changed many students’ views of their place in the world, and of what we have living in the United States compared to people in other parts of the world. It changed their views about the role of money in a happy life -- the vast majority of Cubans are incredibly poor, but in fact have very rich cultural lives,” said Braham.

11 EXC - Vedado ART367	12 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367	13 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367	14 EXC - ICRC TV 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367	15 EXC - TV studio 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367	16 EXC PINAR DEL RIO	17 PINAR DEL RIO
Bus/guide 4 hrs	No guide no bus	Bus/guide 4 hrs	Bus/guide 4 hrs	Bus/guide 4 hrs	Tour bus	Bus/guide
Museum of Decorative Arts Fabrica de Arte Cubano exhibition Mercado Habana Vieja (Old Havana Market)	2-4pm ART367 EXC - Taller Experimental de Gráfica (The Experimental Graphics Studio) Other places in Havana Viejo	2pm-4pm ART367 EXC - Studio visits Muraleando (Neighborhood mural project)	12:30 pm- 2:30 pm ART367 - ICAIC Instituto Cubano de Arte e Industria Cinematográficos (Cuban Film Center) EXC –evening cultural event	2pm-4pm ART367 EXC - Necrópolis Colón (cemetery Vedado)	- Las Terrazas vegetarian restaurant - Tobacco farm - Crocodile recovery project Dinner / Pinar del Río Guide and driver to Vinales	ART367 Gallery - Pedro Pablo Oliva Pinar del Río Hotel
HMP / film	HMP	HMP / film	HMP	HMP	Dinner at the hotel	Dinner at the hotel

Professor Gaiter taught a course titled “Art and Design in Cuban Life”.

“Afro-Cuban culture, as well as Spanish culture, is evident in visual representations of Santería and Abakuá icons, gods and figures. Cubans keep their history and culture alive through the arts.”

Students read fundamental texts about the slave trade in Cuba and the revolution, and viewed art in local museums and throughout the city of Havana. “The students were surrounded with beauty, natural and created. All this was juxtaposed against extreme poverty and near-ruin,” said Gaiter. “We definitely experienced the aesthetics of extremes.”

Students documented their time in Cuba through visual journals where they wrote about their experiences, as well as mounted art they were given or found. Gaiter hopes to display students’ artwork as well as their photographs during an exhibition to be announced later this semester.

Students returned to campus with gained understanding of the many facets of Cuban life, as well as with greater insight into their own lives.

“It changed many students’ views of their place in the world, and of what we have living in the United States compared to people in other parts of the world. It changed their views about the role of money in a happy life -- the vast majority of Cubans are incredibly poor, but in fact have very rich cultural lives,” said Braham.

18 PINAR-HAVANA Bus / guide UNESCO biosphere HMP / film	19 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367 Bus / driver for 4 hours 2pm-4pm ART367 Community project with Claudio Sotolongo Menendez (Univ. of Havana) and students (visiting lecturers, artists or visits during / after class time.) HMP	20 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367 2pm-4pm ART367 Community project Bus / driver for 4 hours EXC - Artist studio visit-evening HMP / film	21 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367 2pm-4pm ART367 Community project EXC – Cultural event HMP	22 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367 2pm-4pm ART367 Community project Bus / guide for 4 hours (Artist studio visit-evening) HMP	23 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367 2pm-4pm ART367 Community project Bus / guide for 4 hours HMP	24 EXC CIENFUEGOS ART367 Palacio del Valle - Tour bus EXC – Evening group cultural activity (music, etc.) Hotel / dinner included
25 EXC TRINIDAD	26 Classroom 10am-12pm LAIS/FLL367 exam	27 Classroom 10am-4pm ART367 Workday on Final projects and Journals	28 Classroom 10am-12pm ART367 Presenting final projects	29 Classroom 10am-12pm ART367 Presenting final projects	30 EXC	31 DEPARTURE HAVANA-MIAMI-PHL

Professor Gaiter taught a course titled “Art and Design in Cuban Life”.

“Afro-Cuban culture, as well as Spanish culture, is evident in visual representations of Santería and Abakuá icons, gods and figures. Cubans keep their history and culture alive through the arts.”

Students read fundamental texts about the slave trade in Cuba and the revolution, and viewed art in local museums and throughout the city of Havana. “The students were surrounded with beauty, natural and created. All this was juxtaposed against extreme poverty and near-ruin,” said Gaiter. “We definitely experienced the aesthetics of extremes.”

Students documented their time in Cuba through visual journals where they wrote about their experiences, as well as mounted art they were given or found. Gaiter hopes to display students’ artwork as well as their photographs during an exhibition to be announced later this semester.

Students returned to campus with gained understanding of the many facets of Cuban life, as well as with greater insight into their own lives.

“It changed many students’ views of their place in the world, and of what we have living in the United States compared to people in other parts of the world. It changed their views about the role of money in a happy life -- the vast majority of Cubans are incredibly poor, but in fact have very rich cultural lives,” said Braham.

Bus and driver	Bus and driver for 4 hours	No bus no guide	No bus no guide	No bus no guide	Bus and guide for 4 hours	Transfer to airport – Departure tax
Return to HAVANA	2pm-4pm ART367 ISA (Instituto Superior de Artes) (Art School)					$25 CUC
HMP	HMP / film	HMP	HMP	HMP	Farewell dinner at a paladar	HAV-MIAMI Depart MIAMI 2pm Arrive Phila 4:44pm US Airways # 710