

Volunteers Needed for Artfest 2011

The Center for Disabilities Studies is hosting its annual Artfest September 24. Artfest is an opportunity for UD students to work one-on-one with individuals who have intellectual and physical disabilities to create artwork for the Center for Disabilities Studies annual report calendar.

Student volunteers will help with registration, set-up, snacks and clean-up, as well as assist the workshop participants. Art therapist Lisa Bartoli will give the volunteers a brief orientation about working with people with disabilities, the use of adaptive equipment for the art projects, instructions about the specific projects for the workshop, etc.
