Disability Cinema

Fixed: The Science/Fiction of Human Enhancement

With Featured Speaker Stephanie Kerschbaum, University of Delaware

When: Thursday, January 14

Where: Rm. 127 in Memorial Hall

The Second of Four Free Films on Thursday Evenings in January

Kerschbaum’s 15-minute presentation begins at 7 p.m., followed by the film and audience discussion. The event will also feature an onsite drawing for gift certificates to local movie theaters!

---

About the film: “From bionic limbs and neural implants to prenatal screening, researchers around the world are hard at work developing a myriad of technologies to fix or enhance the human body. FIXED: The Science/Fiction of Human Enhancement takes a close look at the drive to be ‘better than human’ and the radical technological innovations that may take us there.”--Fixed website

---

About the speaker: Stephanie Kerschbaum is an associate professor in UD’s Department of English. Her research focuses on identity, diversity and difference, the teaching of writing, and disability studies. Her book, Toward a New Rhetoric of Difference (NCTE, 2014) was awarded the 2015 Advancement of Knowledge Award from the Conference on College Composition and Communication.

---

Accommodations: The film will be open captioned and audio description will be available. Other requested accommodations will be provided upon request.

To reserve your seat for this or other films in the series, go to http://ow.ly/VFPe6 or call 302-831-2940

This mini-film series is supported by a grant from the Unidel Foundation and the Center for Disabilities Studies.