

Fall 2008 Course Series on Issues in Presidential Politics, Campaigns, & the Media

COMM 200: Human Communication Systems – Media Technology & the Presidential Campaign

Professor Lindsay Hoffman | MWF 2:30 – 3:20 | Open to all majors | Fulfills College of Arts & Sciences Group C breadth requirement

Examine politicians', journalists', and public's use of media technology during the campaign

COMM 329: Broadcast Newswriting

Professor Lindsay Hoffman | MWF 11:15 – 12:05 | Open only to Communication majors and Journalism minors

Get basic skills of writing for TV, radio, and Web, with focus on campaign reporting

COMM 418-010: Politics & Entertainment

Professor Dannagal Young | TR 2:00 – 3:15 | Open only to Communication majors and Journalism minors

Explore how entertainment media shape the political landscape

COMM/POSC 367: Campaign 2008 Lecture Series

Guest Speakers | MWF 12:20 – 1:10 | Open to all majors

Hear from speakers in Political Science, Communication, and English on Campaign 2008

COMM/POSC/ENG 467: The Road to the Presidency

Professors Ralph Begleiter and Joseph Pika | TR 2:00 – 3:15 | Open only to majors

Learn all about the process of campaigning and the general election

POSC 150: American Political Systems

Professors Jason Mycoff, James Magee, and David Wilson | TR 9:30 – 10:45 or MWF 11:15 – 12:05 | Open to all majors | Fulfills College of Arts & Sciences Group B breadth requirement

Investigate the structure, functions, and process in the American political system

LEAD467/POSC467: Leadership & Politics

Professor Edward Freel | R 6:00 – 9:00 p.m.

Gain hands-on experience in campaigns and meet people involved in the political process

Also look for information on our ELECTION NIGHT 2008 event: Nov. 4!

Sponsored by the Department of Communication and the Department of Political Science and International Relations

www.udel.edu/communication/

www.udel.edu/poscir/

