

Egypt P4L follow up conference 2007
University of Delaware - English language institute
Assuit university Egyptian ministry of education

Abstracts

Title: teaching grammar using games

Presenter: Ahmed Abdelrashid Hamed

Teaching grammar is very difficult and requires a lot of efforts. Games help to practice the grammar structures that students learn in communicative context. It's possible to learn a language as well as enjoy oneself at the same time. One of the best ways of doing this is through games. Games are fun activities and have a great educational value. This workshop is suitable for elementary ,preparatory and secondary teachers.

Title: A Dip into classroom management

Presenter: Abdurrahman Eliwa

Are you a teacher or a manager? How can you discipline your classroom? Come and share our dip into some procedures, techniques, tips and activities related to creating the desired atmosphere of teaching and learning. This workshop is suitable for elementary ,preparatory and secondary teachers.

Title: Using Jazz chants for teaching English

Presenter: Mohammed Lotfy

I'm going to talk about using jazz chants for teaching English. Jazz chants can be used as a tool of motivating students inside the classroom and for encouraging pair and role playing activities. Jazz chants are very useful for improving students listening and speaking skills. This workshop is suitable for elementary ,preparatory and secondary teachers.

Title: Using debate as a tool of assessment

Presenter: Nasr Abouelseoud Abdelmegeed

The researcher aims in his workshop to discuss with his audience the significance of using debate in teaching. He starts with defining debate, discussing the importance of using it, negotiating the characteristics of a good debater and figuring out areas of language that can be tested by using debate. The focus of this workshop is on different activities that can be used to promote debating. This workshop is suitable for preparatory and secondary teachers.

Title: scenario

Presenter: Tarik Mohammed Ibrahim

To make participants use scenario in classroom to improve fluency in English. Strategic interaction is an approach to language instructions that calls upon learners to use the target language purposefully and skillfully in communicating with other

This workshop is suitable for preparatory and secondary teachers.

Title: (Low Tech – High impact)

Presenter: Samia Gergess

The purpose of this presentation is to introduce different teaching aids designed to promote autonomy in the teaching learning process. Further more this workshop will provide the audience with take-home samples as a souvenirs that may pave the way for the teachers to think of more creative teaching aids. This workshop is suitable for elementary ,preparatory and secondary teachers.-

Title:- Magical Letters

Presenter; - Hassan Badr Abdullah

Q: What are libraries made of?

A: Millions of books.

Q: What are books made of?

A: Sentences.

Q: What are sentences made of?

A: 26 Letters.

So letters are behind all the literature and scientific revolution in our modern world.

In this workshop the presenter, will explore the power of letters in enhancing the four skills of learners as well as teaching English grammar and vocabulary in an interesting way. Also this workshop will ignite those innovative teachers to develop their way of teaching English as a foreign language.

This workshop is suitable for elementary ,preparatory and secondary teachers.

Title :-incorporating the fifth skill into classroom practices .

Presenter: Shady Mohamed

In a global age where rapid developments in technology and telecommunication take place , isolation becomes more and more difficult if not impossible , and international understanding and cross- cultural communication become major aims of education in general and foreign language instruction in particular . Our learners today are tomorrows

Citizens who are obliged to co –exist in" one – but – multi cultural" world. Thus, any separation between cultural knowledge and linguistic knowledge breaks down communication and results in linguistic problems and social gaffes . this workshop aims to provide teachers with varied techniques for teaching foreign culture objectively in order to develop students culture awareness and deepen their under standing of their own culture . This workshop is suitable for preparatory and secondary teachers.

Title: using high tech in teaching stories

Presenter: Ramadan Hassan Abdullah

Using high-Tech. breaks the routine in teaching and makes students interested. Using high tech in teaching stories introduces a story in a new style or a new coat. It inspires students to use high tech in learning. It gives participants a chance to discover the power of the visual learning. This workshop is suitable for elementary ,prep, secondary students. This workshop is suitable for elementary ,preparatory and secondary teachers.

Workshop title: Using games in teaching English prepositions

Presenter: Kamal Eldeen Albadry

I aim, with this presentation, to give the teachers a new and better way to explain the prepositions in a way that interacts the students. I felt that the original way of explaining them is very boring. Also I found that prepositions are easily forgotten. I'll begin the workshop by showing the audience that the problem of prepositions is not unique with English but it's a general problem with all languages. Then I'll give them some games dealing with prepositions. At the end there will be a discussion about what we have done. This workshop is suitable for preparatory and secondary teachers.

Title: Fun for learning

Presenter: Marsail samir Hann

It's very important to use fun in teaching that helps students to learn the language easily and make them enthusiastic in receiving the information. The presenter will display few of the fun ideas that have been taught in University of Delaware and were applied in Egyptian classes. That topic is for elementary, prep, and secondary stages. This workshop is suitable for elementary ,preparatory and secondary teachers.