

Partnership for Learning Follow-on conference
Spring 2007, Rabat Morocco
Collaborate, Share and Improve!

Biographies

Hassan Badr

Hassan Badr is an Egyptian teacher of English .He has been teaching English for secondary school students for more than 13 years. Now , he teaches English in one the best high schools in upper Egypt. He got many certificates in TEFL Like from Strathclyde University in Britain and the COTE certificate from the AUC(American University in Cairo) ,but travelling to the States was a turning point in his career as it was the first time to learn how to design and deliver a workshop. He enjoys very much working with his Moroccan colleagues .Himain interests in teaching are motivation and Multiple Intelligences.

Smail BenBihi

Smail Ben Bihi graduated from the C.P.R of Inezgane in 2003. Prior to that, he got a B.A from the university of Ibou Zohr, Agadir in 1997. He was lucky to attend a summer training in the university of Delaware, USA last year within the Partnership For Learning programme (P4L).Currently, he is teaching English at El Ouatia Middle School, Tan Tan.

Abderrahman Boukhaffa

He is an EFL teacher at Mohamed Hassan Ouazzani school in Tangier since September 2003. He is a CPR laureate from Oujda. He successfully completed the 2006 summer institute at the English Language Institute at the University of Delaware (USA). His main interests are psycho-pedagogy and psycho-linguistics.

Houria kouka.

Houria Kouka is from Agadir. She attended the Faculty of Human sciences at the University of Ibnou Zohr in Agadir. She majored in English Language, and was invited to attend the CPR teacher training school at Inzegane. Ms. Kouka graduated in 2004, and is currently in her third year as a teacher of English in Idriss ElHarizi Junior High School in Agadir.

Kamal ELHADRI.

Kamal ELHADRI was born in 1979. He attended the Faculty of Art and Human Sciences in Fes in 1998; he majored in English literature. In 2003, he got his B.A. In the same year, he participated in "Staff Development and Research in Higher Education" Unit and he earned his D.E.S.A in 2005. Currently, he is preparing his PH.D. In 2004, he joined the C.P.R and was appointed in Azrou. He has been teaching English in Mohammed V Middle school in Azrou since 2004. Last year, he participated in partnership for learning program which took place in the University of Delaware, USA.

Driss Lachheb

Driss Lachheb was born in Rabat, Morocco in 1977. He attended the Faculty of Literature and Human Sciences at Mohamed V University in Rabat, and majored in English Language and Literature in July of 2000. Mr. Lachheb began teaching English in private schools and language centers. In 2002, Mr. Lachheb joined the Centre Pedagogique Regional (CPR) in Rabat. As a trainee, he taught for one month in Lalla Nezha High School in Rabat. He was appointed next to the Abdelaziz Bencheqroun Junior High School in Salé in 2003. Despite being a teacher only for three years, he temporarily teaches at the National School of Forestry, Salé, teaching English for foresting engineers. In 2006 he was accepted to benefit from the P4I program (Partner for learning Program) in Delaware University USA. A training that has changed all his teaching career. Mr. Lachheb is single and likes reading and traveling.

Imane Karaman.

Imane Karaman is a middle school teacher in Casablanca. She has been teaching since 2004 in the same school. She attended the Faculty of Literature and Human Sciences at Hassan II University in , and majored in English Language and Literature, linguistics option. In 2006 Imane was accepted to benefit from the P4I program (Partner for learning Program) in Delaware University USA. It was a great experience for her.

Fatiha Ouadani.

Fatiha Ouadani is a senior high school teacher. She has been working for four years in Beni Mellal. She is a member of MATE local branch of Beni Mellal. She attended Mate Conference about Citizenship last December in Marrakech. She also attended The First National Seminar that Mate organized, March 9th and 10th, 2007. She likes to have friends all over the world. She has a sense of humor and loves teaching.

Abdelaziz Deqaqi.

Abdelaziz Deqaqi is a junior-high school teacher of English in Jerada. He has been teaching four years now. He graduated from Mohamed the first university and did his teacher training in Oujda, the city where he was born. Last summer, he underwent a training at the university of Delaware in the United States of America. That was a turning point and a great boost in his career.

Stephanie Cole

Stephanie Cole is currently an English Language Fellow affiliated with the United States Department of State English Language Programs. She is a professor at the ENS - (teacher-training center in Rabat). Stephanie is the former coordinator of UN educational programs in Puebla México, former coordinator of Model United Nations programs and former professor of Human Rights, Global Issues and Comparative Cultural and Religion classes.

Stephanie has a Masters of Education and has lived and taught in countries around the world such as: México, Indonesia, India, Singapore, Thailand, Australia and now Morocco.