

Professor
Department of History, Wesley College &
MALS Adjunct Faculty
302-736-2469
foxsu@wesley.edu

Dr. Sue Fox is Professor of History and American Studies at Wesley College, where she has been on the faculty for thirty years. She holds an A. B. in History from Randolph-Macon Woman's College, an M.A. in History from the College of William and Mary, and a Ph.D. in the History of American Civilization from the University of Delaware. She has done historical research for Colonial Williamsburg and for the Delaware Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs. She has also done historical documentaries on Wyoming and Greenwood, Delaware.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

MALS 617: Social and Cultural Background

Art in American Culture is a course in which students study the various art forms created by Americans from before Europeans arrived to the present day. These art forms, and the artists who created them, will be examined in their cultural context.