General Information

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at University of Delaware in Dover was established in 2010 by the University of Delaware and a committed group of volunteers who served as a founding committee.

Classes are conducted in the East Wing of the Modern Maturity Center in Dover on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays during the day for a ten week semester. The fall 2010 semester begins September 14 and runs through November 18. Each class meets for approximately one hour and 15 minutes.

Mission and Vision

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at University of Delaware in Dover offers opportunities for intellectual development, cultural stimulation, personal growth, and social interaction for people age 50+ in an educational cooperative.

Members volunteer their wealth of talent and experience in planning and implementing college-level educational experiences to form an educational cooperative. The members are the instructors and students, and through a committee structure guide the operating policies, curriculum, and help with daily operations. No educational prerequisites are needed and there are no grades or exams—just learning for the fun of it.

Membership

Members are interested in and support the mission. Members must be either at least 50 years old within four months after the beginning of the term in which they register, or the spouse of a member of that age.

Members complete a registration form and pay the membership fee for the full year or the current semester.

Instructor Only members complete a registration form and have been accepted to teach in the current semester, but do not pay the membership fee and do not participate in the courses or activities of the program.

Full year memberships begin with the fall registration and expire on September 1 of the following year. Full year memberships include fall and spring semesters.

Single semester memberships begin upon registration for the fall or spring semester and expire on the first day of the subsequent semester.

Membership Fees

Full year membership for the 2010-2011 academic year is $210 and is available only in the fall. Single semester membership is $130 for fall or spring semester. Membership may be paid for by check. Credit card payment is not available. Need-based partial scholarships are available.

Course Registration

Each student may choose three classes in order of priority. Students may be given an opportunity to take more than three classes based on availability. Class size will vary based on room capacity and instructor requests.

SAVE THE DATE

February 22-April 28, 2011, Tuesday-Thursday—Spring semester classes

Early Bird Registration

For early bird registration, mailed forms must be received by Friday, August 13.

In-person registration is Wednesday, August 11 and Thursday, August 12 between 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. and Friday, August 13 from noon-2:00 p.m. In-person registration is held in the East Wing of the Modern Maturity Center.

Telephone registration is not available.

Checks should be made payable to the University of Delaware.

During early bird registration, students are placed in their priority courses by lottery after August 13, the cut-off date. Members will be notified by Friday, August 27 of their class assignments. A second registration period is available for changes.

Registration

A second chance to register in person for classes with open seats will be available Tuesday-Thursday, September 7, 8, and 9 from 9:00 a.m.-1:00 p.m. in the East Wing of the Modern Maturity Center.

Refunds

Membership refunds will be given until the end of the second week of the semester. All requests must be made in writing and submitted to the office. Refunds will be processed no sooner than October 4. A $15 processing fee will be deducted from all refunds.

Inclement Weather

Classes are cancelled whenever Modern Maturity Center activities are cancelled due to inclement weather.

Books and Supplies

Most courses do not require purchased books or supplies. Most course descriptions list textbooks and other supplies if suggested for the course. The cost of these materials will be the responsibility of the student.

Location and Parking

Classes are held in the East Wing of the Modern Maturity Center at 1121 Forrest Avenue (Route 8) in Dover. The Modern Maturity Center has accessible, abundant, and free parking. Handicapped parking is readily available close to the East Wing entrance.

Lunch

Discussion and friendship are an important element of the lifelong learning community. Members are encouraged to continue their discussions and become better acquainted during our noon lunch period. Lunch is available in the Modern Maturity Center cafeteria.

Member Opportunities

As an educational cooperative, the success of the program depends on engaged and enthusiastic volunteers. Members are encouraged to offer new course ideas, serve as instructors, and serve on committees in support of the program. Active participation in the lifelong learning program is an excellent way to develop new friendships and be part of an exciting new team in our community.

To volunteer, contact Carrie Townsend, Dover Program Coordinator, at 302/734-1200 ext. 168, located in the Modern Maturity Center, Room 45, 1121 Forrest Avenue, Dover, 19904 or e-mail her at ctownsen@udel.edu.

Open House

An open house is scheduled for Wednesday, July 21 from 10:00 a.m. until noon in the East Wing of the Modern Maturity Center.

Drop in to tour our facilities, preview our fall courses, and meet some of our instructors. Please join us to learn about this exciting new program and our first semester in Dover.

Thursday, 10:30 a.m.-11:45 a.m.

Instructor: Gail Johnston

A workshop in memoir writing for beginners as well as those who have some experience. Topics include developing writing discipline, depicting characters, description and detail, framing scenes, creating dialogue, and family experiences as a backdrop to history. Limited to 15 students.

Instructors

Bochnowski, John—John received an M.A. in history from the University of Virginia. He is retired from the Capital School District, where he taught history, political science, and computer science. John also has taught in UD's lifelong learning program in Lewes since 1998, covering topics such as Indian Wars and the American Civil War.

Bryan, Terry—Terry is a semi-retired dentist with a mobile practice to nursing care facilities and a lifelong Delaware resident. He is a past member of several Delaware medical committees and current member of several numismatic and historical-interest organizations. Terry is a member of the Dover Symphony Orchestra, the Milford Community Band, and several other music organizations. He is a dedicated collector of Delaware ephemera and sheet music and a frequent speaker on Delaware history topics.

Burris, Charlie—Charlie holds a B.A. in history from the University of Delaware. A private school administrator and teacher, Charlie taught American history from 1978-1987 with focus on early settlements through Reconstruction and the election of 1877. A longtime student of the Civil War, Charlie was a member of the Kansas City Civil War Round Table from 1982-1984 and currently is president of the Civil War Round Table of Central Delaware. He is a former member of Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

Cataldi, Alice—Alice holds a B.A. and M.A. from the University of Connecticut, with past graduate work at the University of Delaware and previous education in Israel in a French boarding school. As a result, French is Alice's first language of literacy. She has taught French at the Norwich Free Academy in Connecticut, at Caesar Rodney and Milford high schools in Delaware, and retired after 13 years of teaching at the University of Delaware. She is a recipient of the prestigious Chevalier in the Order of Academic Palms, awarded by the French government in recognition of a lifetime achievement of teaching French culture.

Gardner, Jack—Jack retired in June 2003 after teaching history at Delaware State University for 41 years. He is a volunteer docent for Mount Harmon Plantation. Jack has a special interest in costumed first person interpretation and, as such, is a member of the First Maryland Regiment and Cecil County Militia Revolutionary War reenactment units and a founding member of both the first person and military interpretation committees of the Association for Living History, Farms and Agricultural Museums. Jack and his wife are members of the Dover English Country Dancers, several reading groups, and subscribe to several museum groups.

Heifetz, Bob—Bob received a B.A. in English/Education and an M.A. from Queens College. He taught high school English in New York for five years and in Connecticut for 25 years, the American Literature Honors Program for over 20 years, and English electives such as creative writing. Bob has participated in numerous poetry and book groups and taught the Bible as literature to church and synagogue adult groups. His hobbies include bicycling, hiking, kayaking, and birdwatching. He enjoys traveling and spending time with family and friends.

Herndon, Shirley—Shirley received a B.A. in interior design and an M.Ed. in curriculum. She is a retired interior designer and adjunct professor of art history at Wesley College. As a professional genealogist, Shirley is vice president of the Downstate Genealogical Society and charter member/historian of the Sussex County Genealogical Society.

Johnston, Gail—Gail was born in Baltimore, Maryland and lived there most of her adult life. She graduated from the University of Maryland with degrees in sociology and English literature and later obtained her graduate degree in social work. Although she worked for many years as a geriatric social worker, she always felt writing was her true avocation. She especially enjoys poetry, journaling, and personal essay. After retiring she wrote and published a memoir of her childhood, Make a Lot of Noise and Don't Go on the Porch. In 2009, she published a collection of poetry and essays, Early Evening. Some of her poetry and essays have appeared in the Delmarva Quarterly and other local publications.

Koch, Larry—Larry received an Ed.D. from the University of Maine. He is president of the Tellers of Lower Delaware, the state affiliate of the National Storytelling Network. He has been laughed at by thousands of students in elementary school, high school, and college for over 30 years.

McAvoy, Bill—Bill has been Delaware's state botanist with the Delaware Natural Heritage and Endangered Species Program for the past 20 years. His main interest is coastal plain flora and plant geography. As author of Flora of Delaware, an Annotated Checklist, as well as many other publications and botanical journals, McAvoy's botanical knowledge extends to the Delmarva Peninsula. A graduate of Delaware State University, McAvoy is a resident of Hartly, Delaware.

McKay, Margaret—Margaret received a Ph.D. from the University of California and taught political science in California, New York, New Jersey, and Texas. She especially enjoys American government and public policy. She retired from Delaware State University and currently serves as a board member of the Delaware League of Women Voters, where she is also lobbyist for open government.

McLaughlin, Art—Art is a 2010 graduate of the University of Delaware, where he majored in art history. He will be enrolling in art history graduate courses in the fall of 2010. Art holds a B.A. in political science from the University of Delaware, an M.S. in community health and wellness administration, and is the author of five textbooks on medically-related subjects.

Skocik, David—David holds an M.A. in communications from Temple University. A former college administrator and professor of communications, he is nationally accredited in public relations by the Public Relations Society of America, and president of PR Delaware LLC, a small public relations business in Dover, Delaware. Experienced in both theory and practice, he hosted Comcast Academic Challenge, a TV quiz show for Delaware high school students between 1987 and 2008. Active in the community, he emcees parades, fundraisers, debates, concerts, dedications, competitions, and special events throughout the year, including serving as word pronouncer for the state spelling bee since 1992. In 2009, he wrote Practical Public Relations for the Small Business: Tools and Tactics for Competitive Advantage. David retired from the Navy Reserve in 2007 and has worked with business, social, civic, military, and educational organizations.

Spiegelman, Jeff—Jeff received a B.S. from Ithaca College and an M.A. in military history from Norwich University. A former college instructor and U.S. Navy contractor, Jeff currently teaches at Wilmington University and Delaware Technical and Community College. He also serves as an educator for the Air Mobility Command Museum.

Williams, Sally—Sally graduated from Dover High School, entering the working world as a secretary and bookkeeper. She retired in 1999 as an executive secretary. She is a Certified Professional Secretary and past member of the Office Systems Advisory Board of Delaware Technical and Community College. She also is past president of the First State Chapter of Professional Secretaries International and Diamond State Investors, an investment club. Sally is an accomplished genealogist and currently serves as president of the Downstate Delaware Genealogical Society.
