General Information

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Delaware in Dover was established in 2010 by the University of Delaware and a committed group of volunteers who served as a founding committee.

Classes are conducted in the East Wing of the Modern Maturity Center in Dover on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays during the day for a 10-week semester. The Spring 2011 semester begins February 22 and runs through April 28. Each class meets once a week for approximately one hour and 15 minutes.

Mission and Vision

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at the University of Delaware in Dover offers opportunities for intellectual development, cultural stimulation, personal growth and social interaction for people age 50+ in an educational cooperative.

Members volunteer their wealth of talent and experience in planning and implementing college-level educational experiences to form an educational cooperative. The members are the instructors and students, and through a committee structure guide the operating policies, curriculum and help with daily operations. No educational prerequisites are needed and there are no grades or exams—just learning for the fun of it.

Membership

Members are interested in and support the mission. Members must be either at least 50 years old within four months after the beginning of the term in which they register, or the spouse of a member of that age.

Members complete a registration form and pay the membership fee for the full year or the current semester. In the fall, full memberships are available.

Instructor only members complete a registration form and have been accepted to teach in the current semester, but do not pay the membership fee and do not participate in the courses or activities of the program.

Single semester memberships begin upon registration for the fall or spring semester and expire on the first day of the subsequent semester.

Membership Fees

Single semester membership is $130 for spring semester. Membership may be paid for by check. Credit card payment is not available. Need-based partial scholarships are available. Contact the program coordinator to schedule an appointment.

Course Registration

Each student may choose three classes in order of priority. Students may be given an opportunity to take more than three classes based on availability. Class size will vary based on room capacity and instructor requests.

Priority Registration

For priority registration, mailed forms must be received by Friday, January 14.

In-person registration is Tuesday, January 11 and Wednesday, January 12, 10 a.m. - 1 p.m. In-person registration is held in the East Wing of the Modern Maturity Center.

Telephone registration is not available.

Checks should be made payable to the University of Delaware.

During priority registration, students are placed in their requested courses by lottery after January 14, the cut-off date. Members will be notified by Wednesday, January 26 of their class assignments. A second registration period is available for changes and for people who miss the first registration. During the second registration period, students are placed in classes on a first-come, first-served basis.

Registration

The second chance to register in person for classes with open seats is available Tuesday and Wednesday, February 15 and 16, from 10 a.m. - 1 p.m. in Room 45 of the Modern Maturity Center.

Registration by mail is accepted until Thursday, February 17. Walk in registrations also are welcome the first two weeks of the semester.

Refunds

Membership refunds will be given until the end of the second week of the semester. All requests must be made in writing and submitted to the office. Refunds will be processed no sooner than March 14. A $15 processing fee will be deducted from all refunds.

Inclement Weather

Classes are cancelled whenever Modern Maturity Center activities are cancelled due to inclement weather. Please visit, www.lifelonglearning.udel.edu/dover for weather updates or cancellations, or call the Modern Maturity Center at 302-734-1200.

Books and Supplies

Most courses do not require purchased books or supplies. Most course descriptions list textbooks and other supplies if suggested for the course. The cost of these materials is the responsibility of the student.

Location and Parking

Classes are held in the East Wing of the Modern Maturity Center at 1121 Forrest Avenue (Route 8) in Dover. The Modern Maturity Center has accessible, abundant and free parking. Handicapped parking is readily available close to the East Wing entrance.

Lunch

Discussion and friendship are important elements of the lifelong learning community. Members are encouraged to continue their discussions and become better acquainted during our noon lunch period. Lunch is available in the Modern Maturity Center cafeteria.

Volunteer Opportunities

As an educational cooperative, the success of the program depends on engaged and enthusiastic volunteers. Members are encouraged to offer new course ideas, serve as instructors and serve on committees in support of the program. Active participation in the lifelong learning program is an excellent way to develop new friendships and be part of an exciting new team in our community.

To volunteer, contact Carrie Townsend, Dover program coordinator, at 302-734-1200 ext. 168, located in the Modern Maturity Center, Room 45, 1121 Forrest Avenue, Dover, 19904 or email her at ctownsen@udel.edu.

Spanish for Beginners

Course ID: LANG120
 Tuesday, 1-2:15 p.m.
 Instructor: Barbara Shalley-Leonard

A thematic approach to basic conversation at home or abroad. Themes include greetings and introductions, family, shopping, dining and more. Related cultural events will also be presented.

LITERATURE

A Time Out for Poetry

Course ID: LITR110
 Thursday, 10:30-11:45 a.m.
 Instructor: Bob Heifetz

Everyone has a favorite poet. Pick a single (relatively short) poem to read and discuss at each meeting. Participants will be asked to provide a copy for each member of the group, possibly along with a brief biography of the poet and explain their choice. By the end of the program class members should have a new anthology of poems to add to their personal library.

If You Tickle Us, Do We Not Laugh? Reading Shakespeare's Comedies Aloud

Course ID: LITR115
 Wednesday, 9-10:15 a.m.
 Instructor: Jack Gardner

Shakespeare's comedies are particularly good for reading aloud, since they are not so dominated by a single character as some tragedies and histories. They have interesting well-developed characters, and are genuinely funny and fun to read. In our 10 weeks, we shall read Twelfth Night, The Merchant of Venice and A Midsummer Night's Dream. You may ask to read certain characters, or you may be assigned parts. Please bring a copy of the play being read to every class meeting.

Lifelong Learning Book Lovers Group

Course ID: LITR120
 Thursday, 1-2:15 p.m.
 Instructor: Bob Heifetz

We will read three contemporary American novels by widely acclaimed writers. The novels for this program will be The Old Cape Magic by Richard Russo, Plague of Doves by Louise Erdrich and People of the Book by Geraldine Brooks. Our objectives will be to explore our common humanity and explore great writing. In addition, we will have lively discussions and share the pleasure of reading.

MUSIC APPRECIATION

History of the Roots of Rock and Roll

Course ID: MUSA105
 Thursday, 10:30-11:45 a.m.
 Instructor: Art McLaughlin

Explore the influence of Mississippi and Texas blues, country and western music, swing, jazz and rhythm and blues on the development of rock and roll. Special attention will be placed on the development of instruments and band personnel structure.

PHYSICAL SCIENCE

Earth's Environments

Course ID: PSCI105
Wednesday, 9-10:15 a.m.
Instructor: Bill Jones

Using video format and discussion, we will explore the different environments found on the earth and highlight some of the rare and endangered species found in those environments. We will also look at the processes people are using to attempt to save endangered species. As humans' development of natural resources is part of the processes that change environments, these topics will be discussed.

Our National Parks

Course ID: PSCI110
Wednesday, 10:30-11:45 a.m.
Instructor: Bill Jones

Not a travelogue! Using DVDs, photographs and other resources, we will explore our national parks through the eyes of geologists, naturalists, park rangers, photographers and even marine biologists. We will see areas of parks that tourists rarely see and learn of the challenges faced by the National Park Service.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Political Landscape of the 21st Century

Course ID: POLI100
Thursday, 10:30-11:45 a.m.
Instructor: Margaret McKay

A broad examination and interactive discussion of the historical, economic and cultural dimensions of the American political landscape and its relationship to current events.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Last Gift of Time

Course ID: SOST100
Wednesday, 1-2:15 p.m.
Instructor: Gail Johnston

Explore the challenges and decisions confronting people in their sixties and beyond. Topics include living space, using leisure time, the value of reminiscence in aging, changing relationships and viewing friendships from different perspectives. Some topics will be of particular interest to women; however, the course welcomes and is intended for both men and women. Limited to 25 students.

WRITING

Memoir Writing—Remembering Our Past

Course ID: WRMR100
Wednesday, 10:30-11:45 a.m.
Instructor: Gail Johnston

A workshop in memoir writing for beginners as well as those who have some experience. Topics include developing writing discipline, depicting characters, description and detail, framing scenes, creating dialogue and family experiences as a backdrop to history. Limited to 15 students.

Instructors

Berhalter, Kathleen—Kathleen is a photographer, painter and former printmaker, currently exploring photography and mixed media. She is an experienced and distinguished art professor, retired after 40 years of teaching. She was the original founder and served as the chairman of the Delaware State University Department of Art and Art Education from 1970-1997. Kathleen holds both master's and doctoral degrees in fine arts and fine arts education. In addition, Kathleen enjoys travel and is a Delaware Master Gardener.

Blakey, Don—Don is a retired public school administrator and university educator with more than 50 years of service in Delaware. He and his wife Dolores are the founders of DonDel Enterprises, Inc., a children's theatre company. A world traveler, Don specializes in life in East Africa, especially Kenya and Tanzania. His hobbies include writing, photography, languages and playing the ukulele.

Bochnowski, John—John received an M.A. in history from the University of Virginia. He is retired from the Capital School District, where he taught history, political science and computer science. John also has taught in the Lewes lifelong learning program since 1994, covering topics such as Indian wars and the American Civil War.

Burris, Charlie—Charlie holds a B.A. in history from the University of Delaware. A private school administrator and teacher, Charlie taught American history from 1978-1987 with focus on early settlements through Reconstruction and the election of 1877. A longtime student of the Civil War, Charlie was a member of the Kansas City Civil War Round Table from 1982-1984 and currently is president of the Civil War Round Table of Central Delaware. He is a former member of Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

Cataldi, Alice—Alice holds a B.A. and M.A. from the University of Connecticut, with graduate work at the University of Delaware and previous education in Israel in a French boarding school. As a result, French is Alice's first language of literacy. She has taught French at the Norwich Free Academy in Connecticut, at Caesar Rodney and Milford high schools in Delaware, and retired after 13 years of teaching at the University of Delaware. She is a recipient of the prestigious Chevalier in the Order of Academic Palms, awarded by the French government in recognition of a lifetime achievement of teaching French culture.

Gardner, Jack—Jack retired in June 2003 after teaching history at Delaware State University for 41 years. Jack has a special interest in costumed first person interpretation. Jack and his wife are members of the Dover English Country Dancers, several reading groups and subscribe to several museum groups.

Grover, Ryan—Ryan Grover is the curator of the Biggs Museum of American Art, an adjunct faculty member of the Delaware College of Art and Design, sits on several arts- and conservation-related boards throughout the region and is a freelance art critic. Ryan completed undergraduate and graduate degrees in art history at the University of Wisconsin-Madison with a specialization in American fine and decorative arts.

Heifetz, Bob—Bob received a B.A. in English/education and an M.A. from Queens College. He taught high school English in New York for five years and in Connecticut for 25 years, the American Literature Honors Program for over 20 years, and English electives such as creative writing. Bob has participated in numerous poetry and book groups and taught the Bible as literature to church and synagogue adult groups. His hobbies include bicycling, hiking, kayaking and birdwatching. He enjoys traveling and spending time with family and friends.

Herndon, Shirley—Shirley received a B.A. in interior design and an M.Ed. in curriculum. She is a retired interior designer and adjunct professor of art history at Wesley College. As a professional genealogist, Shirley is vice president of the Downstate Genealogical Society and charter member/historian of the Sussex County Genealogical Society. Shirley is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Johnston, Gail—Gail was born in Baltimore, Maryland and lived there most of her adult life. She graduated from the University of Maryland with degrees in sociology and English literature and later obtained her graduate degree in social work. Although she worked for many years as a geriatric social worker, she always felt writing was her true avocation. She especially enjoys poetry, journaling and personal essay. After retiring she wrote and published a memoir of her childhood, Make a Lot of Noise and Don't Go on the Porch. In 2009, she published a collection of poetry and essays, Early Evening. Some of her poetry and essays have appeared in the Delmarva Quarterly and other local publications.

Jones, Bill—Bill holds a B.S. from Cornell University. He is retired from DuPont and Change Management consulting. Bill has a strong interest in physical, biological and environmental sciences. He also enjoys travel, always with an eye toward environmental science.

McKay, Margaret—Margaret received a Ph.D. from the University of California and taught political science in California, New York, New Jersey and Texas. She especially enjoys American government and public policy. She retired from Delaware State University and currently serves as a board member of the Delaware League of Women Voters, where she is also lobbyist for open government.

McLaughlin, Art—Art is a 2010 graduate of the University of Delaware, where he majored in art history. He is currently enrolled in art history graduate courses. Art holds a B.A. in political science from the University of Delaware, an M.S. in community health and wellness administration, and is the author of five textbooks on medically-related subjects. He managed a rockabilly band for several years.

Shalley-Leonard, Barbara—B.A. in Spanish education, University of Delaware; a M.Ed. in school counseling, Wilmington University. She taught Spanish for 20 years, six in Lake Forest School District and 14 at Milford High School where she was named Milford School District Teacher of the Year. In 2000 she moved from the classroom to the school counselor's office until her retirement in 2009. She was named Delaware's High School Counselor of the Year in 2005. Last year, Barbara taught Spanish as an adjunct professor at Delaware Technical & Community College in Dover.

Skocik, Dave—Dave holds an M.A. in communications from Temple University. A former college administrator and professor of communications, he is nationally accredited in public relations by the Public Relations Society of America, and is president of PR Delaware LLC, a small public relations business in Dover. Experienced in both theory and practice, he hosted Comcast Academic Challenge, a TV quiz show for Delaware high school students between 1987 and 2008. Active in the community, he emcees parades, fundraisers, debates, concerts, dedications, competitions and special events throughout the year, including serving as word pronouncer for the state spelling bee since 1992. In 2009, he wrote Practical Public Relations for the Small Business: Tools and Tactics for Competitive Advantage. Dave retired from the Navy Reserve in 2007 and has worked with business, social, civic, military and educational organizations.

Spiegelman, Jeff—Jeff received a B.S. from Ithaca College and an M.A. in military history from Norwich University. A college instructor and U.S. Navy contractor, Jeff currently teaches at Wilmington University and Delaware Technical & Community College. He also serves as an educator for the Air Mobility Command Museum.

Street, Gerri—Gerri received a B.A. from the University of Delaware in history and political science and J.D. from American University. His law practice has included work as a Deputy Attorney General and at a private practice that has specialized in estate planning and elder law for the last seven years. Gerri is an active member of the community, having served in many capacities including on the school board and Army Reserve and National Guard.
