

PLAN OF CHICAGO: CENTENNIAL EDITION

Daniel H. Burnham and Edward H. Bennett

“... a visionary meditation on urban experience.”
– Carl Smith, on the Plan of Chicago

In 1909, the Commercial Club of Chicago published one of the most influential documents in the history of urban planning.

As a partner in the Burnham centennial celebration, The Great Books Foundation is proud to announce the publication of Plan of Chicago: Centennial Edition in a superior, facsimile reprint of the original. The new volume includes:

- A fascinating introduction by Carl Smith, professor at Northwestern University and author of The Plan of Chicago: Daniel Burnham and the Remaking of the American City.
- Striking, high-quality illustrations that capture the plan in vivid four-color detail.

Plan of Chicago: Centennial Edition is available in two outstanding versions, either of which is a great addition to anyone's personal library, or a perfect gift for anyone interested in the history of Chicago, architecture, landscape design, or green space planning.

- Cloth, a limited print run in a handsome binding$125
Collector's Edition!
- Paperback, offering the same production quality at value pricing.....$39.95

Published in collaboration with the Commercial Club of Chicago and the Chicago History Museum.
