

Black American Studies
UNIVERSITY OF DELAWARE

University Museums
OLD COLLEGE GALLERY
MECHANICAL HALL GALLERY
MINERALOGICAL MUSEUM

Janet Taylor Pickett, Hagar's Dress, 2007. Offset lithograph, 50 x 38 in., University Museums, University of Delaware

“BLACK STUDIES: EVERY DAY, EVERY NIGHT”

co-sponsored by University Museums and the Black American Studies Department

Presents

Dr. P. Gabrielle Foreman

Ned B. Allen Professor of English & Professor of Black American Studies

Wednesday, October 15, 2014, 12:30-1:15pm, in Mechanical Hall Gallery

“Perspective on Renderings”

Perspectives is a series of informal afternoon discussions led by curators and invited faculty about the objects, exhibitions, and ideas on display in University Museums galleries. Scheduled for your lunch break, these varied, short and informal noontime talks offer an introduction to each exhibition as well as time for discussion.