

Pretty pollinators

Butterflies (like Monarchs) are attracted to bright, scented flowers. They help move sticky pollen from one flower to another flower — a process called pollination. This helps create new flowers!

