UNPUBLISHED REPORT

Martin, R. E. 1984. Plio-Pleistocene cyclic sedimentation at East Breaks field: an integrated model for deep-water sand exploration. In-house report to Union Oil Company of California on the effects of Plio-Pleistocene eustatic sea level fluctuations on foraminiferal and nannofossil assemblages ("ecostratigraphy") in an oil and gas field developed by Union Oil. The study integrated paleontologic, well-log, geochemical, and seismic data to produce a model for deep-water (turbidite) reservoir sand exploration.
