

Adjunct Faculty Position, American Sign Language (ASL)
Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures, University of Delaware

The Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures seeks a qualified instructor for one section of introductory ASL in Fall 2020 and one section in Spring 2021.

Responsibilities

The successful applicant is responsible for teaching one section of LLCU 105: Introduction to American Sign Language per semester. Section will meet four times a week for 50 minutes during the fall and spring semesters. Adjunct faculty must also be available for office hours outside of class as part of their agreement to teach.

There is no standard syllabus or material set for this course. Faculty members develop syllabi and course materials in accordance with the best practices described by the American Sign Languages Teachers Association (ASLTA) and the mission and procedures of the Department of Languages, Literatures and Cultures. A willingness to utilize active learning strategies is essential.

Qualifications

Candidates should hold a graduate degree in a relevant discipline (American Sign Language or Deaf Studies preferred); ASLTA certification preferred. Candidates must demonstrate evidence of fluency in ASL and previous experience teaching ASL at the college level or equivalent is required.

Compensation

This is part-time, non-benefitted position. Rate of pay is based on level of education and experience.

Application

To apply, please send the following materials as a single PDF document to Dr. Meredith Ray, Interim Chair for Languages, Literatures and Cultures, at: mkray@udel.edu.

- One-page cover letter
- CV or resume that includes a list of 2-3 references with contact information
- Syllabus of a previously-taught course

The evaluation of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Employment offers will be conditional upon successful completion of a criminal background check. A conviction will not necessarily exclude you from employment.
