Adjunct Instructor opportunities, Department of History
The Department of History seeks qualified adjunct assistant professors to teach one or both of the following two courses:

- HIST300 WOMEN IN AMERICAN HISTORY in a timeslot to be determined during our 2/10/20 – 05/28/20 Spring semester.

Teaching opportunities at both the introductory (HIST1xx) and the intermediate (HIST3xx) undergraduate level might also prove available in subsequent semesters.

Qualifications
Prior classroom teaching experience and a PhD in American / United States history is required.

Compensation
This is a contingent part-time, non-benefitted position. Academic Year 2019-20 pay for teaching a 3cr undergraduate course with ten or more students enrolled as of the end of free drop-and-add is $5,940 gross, paid out in semi-monthly direct deposit allotments.

Additional Expectations
In addition to assigned classroom hours, adjunct faculty must also be available for two office hours a week outside of class to meet with students. Courses at the undergraduate 300-level assume a degree of student maturity and performance, enabling professors to assign influential texts that underscore history as an interpretive discipline. Term papers or essay assignments are are expected. Class enrollments at this level may typically average 30 students.

Applications
To apply, please send a CV and cover letter to Ms. Amy Dolbow at adolbow@udel.edu.

Equal Employment Opportunity
Employment offers will be conditioned upon successful completion of a criminal background check. A conviction will not necessarily exclude you from employment.

The University of Delaware is an Equal Opportunity Employer which encourages applications from historically underrepresented groups and Veterans. The University’s Notice of Non-Discrimination can be found at http://www.udel.edu/aboutus/legalnotices.html