

UD SCHOLARSHIPS & GRANTS

The University of Delaware offers a variety of grants and scholarships (money that does not have to be repaid) to students during the admission process.

A separate application is not required for merit scholarships and all first-time out-of-state students are reviewed for these based upon all materials and information supplied with the admission application. Grants consideration requires the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

OTHER TYPES OF AID

Federal Grants*

Based on low Expected Family Contributions and high financial need

Federal Student Loans*

May or may not be based on financial need; does not require credit check; must be repaid

Federal Work Study*

Employment funding offered based on financial need

Federal PLUS Loans*

Offered in the parent's name; not based on financial need; requires credit check; must be repaid

Alternative Loans

Offered in student's name; not based on financial need; requires credit check; must be repaid

*Requires submission of the FAFSA

NET PRICE CALCULATOR

This tool is designed to provide you with an early indication of what you may expect to pay for a University of Delaware education. Your results will include the amount and types of financial aid you may qualify for if you enroll at UD as a first-time college freshman. A more accurate financial award package is included after students are admitted to UD.

INSTALLMENT PLAN

The University offers an Installment Plan where semester payments can be split into four monthly installments, or eight total monthly installments over the academic year. A $50 fee per semester applies.

According to a recent survey, 95% of UD undergraduates were employed or attending graduate or professional school within six months of graduating.

UD is ranked as one of the top 25 Colleges that Pay the Most by CNBC.

Cost of Attendance: Out-of-State Undergraduates

Final costs for 2020-2021 will be published in early July.

Academic Year 2019-2020
